Demystifying Dyslexia

Basics for Beginners and Support for the Knowledgeable

A half day conference for Educators and Families

*Did you know that nearly 1 out of every 5 students has dyslexia?
They are in our classrooms right now and you can help these struggling readers.*

Bethany Robinson, ESD105 Yakima and Shanna Brooks, North Central ESD will present The Dyslexia Training Module, recently developed to provide basic information and characteristics of dyslexia as well as classroom strategies for helping students who struggle with written language. Additional members of the Dyslexia Resource Team will be on hand to field questions and provide classroom support suggestions.

Building on Strong Foundations with Strong Organizations

The Washington State Dyslexia Resource Team is a collaborative effort between the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI), Educational Service Districts (ESDs), and the Washington State Branch of the International Dyslexia Association (WABIDA). OSPI, ESDs across Washington, and WABIDA work with local school districts, administrators, teachers, and families. Each organization brings specific expertise and knowledge to educate the public and address the challenges of students with dyslexia. For more information, contact the organizations below.
